General Account Rules & Regulations

What is the interest rate?	These accounts earn interest at the current rate. Rates are subject to change every Wednesday and the first business day of every month.
What are the interest rates on savings accounts?	The interest rates paid to accounts vary according to the type of account, the length of time the funds remain on deposit, and the balance of the account. Current interest rates for new and renewing accounts are available in our branches or online at efirstbank.com .
Is interest still earned if the account is closed?	It is our intention to pay all accrued interest when an account is closed; however, if you do not inform us of your intention to close your account and it reaches a zero balance, you may forfeit the accrued interest.
What happens if a check is returned unpaid?	If we accrue interest on deposited funds, and a check is returned unpaid, we are not required to pay interest for the time period that the check was outstanding.

Regular Savings, Money Market & Liquid Asset

How does interest accrue on these accounts?	Interest begins to accrue from the date of deposit for: cash, wire transfers, and telephone or online transfers from another FirstBank account. Interest will accrue no later than the business day we receive credit for deposits of noncash items, such as checks.
When will interest stop accruing?	Interest will accrue up to the date of withdrawal.
How is interest calculated?	Interest is calculated using the daily balance method. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the principal and accrued interest in the account each day.
When is the interest paid?	Interest is paid quarterly for Regular Savings accounts. Interest is paid monthly for Money Market Savings and Liquid Asset accounts.
What are the withdrawal limitations?	These accounts are limited to six of the following types of withdrawals (per month for Regular Savings, per statement cycle for Money Market and Liquid Asset): pre-authorized transfers to a third party, automatic transfers to another FirstBank account, telephone or online transfers and wire transfers.
What withdrawals are not limited?	These accounts have an unlimited number of withdrawals in the following manner: withdrawals or transfers made in person, ATM withdrawals or transfers, automatic payment to a FirstBank loan, bank by mail withdrawals, withdrawals or transfers made by messenger and telephone withdrawals (when a check is mailed).
What other limitations are on these accounts?	Money Market Savings accounts and Liquid Asset accounts are limited to six transfers or withdrawals made by check, debit card, or similar order payable to a third party per statement cycle.
What can happen if these terms are not met?	Failure to abide by these terms may result in the conversion of these accounts to a non-interest bearing account.

Time Savings, Time Deposit & Premier Time Accounts

How does interest accrue on these accounts?	All deposited funds, including any noncash items such as checks, begin to earn interest on the business day they are deposited.
How is interest calculated?	Interest is calculated using the daily balance method. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the principal and accrued interest on the account each day.
When is the interest paid?	Interest is compounded daily and paid quarterly except in the case of 91 day or 182 day accounts, which will be paid at maturity.
Can the earnings be reduced?	The annual percentage yield (APY) assumes interest will remain on deposit until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings.
When can the funds be withdrawn?	Account holders have 10 calendar days after the maturity date to withdraw funds without an early withdrawal penalty. This account will automatically renew at maturity.
